

Naloxone is a medication used to reverse an opioid overdose. Who can administer naloxone?

- a. Trained health care practitioners
- b. Trained family and community members
- c. All of the above

Take the quiz to test your knowledge about addiction
OASAS.ny.gov/InTheKnow

Contact NY State's Hopeline for Help. Call 877-846-7369. Text 467369

Office of Addiction
Services and Supports

Prevention | Treatment | Recovery

Answer: c. All of the above